Greetings Affiliates,

Due to the ongoing pandemic, the Humanities Institute and its affiliated centers expect to have a limited number of (virtual) events this year. Any additional information will be forthcoming in subsequent issues. Stay safe, and enjoy your week!

Humanities Institute's Spotlights of the Week

Center for Folklore Studies: "Workshop: Building Out Black Narratives During a Pandemic" with William Isom II

September 8, 4:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m. via ZOOM

CFS is excited to be partnering with the The Appalachian Studies Network and the Department of African American and African Studies to host documentary filmmaker William Isom II with support from the Global Arts and Humanities Discovery Theme Mobile Methods and Practices Grant. Mr. Isom is the Director of the Black in Appalachia Project which works to "raise the visibility and contributions of the Black communities of the Mountain South through research, local narratives, public engagement and exhibition."

Mr. Isom will hold a workshop titled Building Out Black Narratives During a Pandemic for students interested in documenting historically marginalized communities and the use of social media in public scholarship. To RSVP or for more information, please contact CFS public folklorist Dr. Jasper Waugh-Quasebarth (waugh-quasebarth.1@osu.edu).
This event is FREE and open to the public and will be captioned.

Weekly Events Listing

September 8, 4:00p.m. - 6:00p.m.

Workshop: Building Out Black Narratives During a Pandemic with William Isom II
Zoom
Sponsored by the Center for Folklore Studies

Be sure to “like” us on Facebook and check out our Twitter feed for more news, event updates, links, and humanities-related miscellany.