March 11, 3:30p.m. - 4:30p.m.: Medieval Latin Reading Group

The Medieval Latin reading group will meet on Thursdays, 3:30-4:30 p.m., during the Spring 2021 semester, beginning Thursday, January 21.

Participants in the Medieval Latin reading group are not required to prepare the readings ahead of time, and nobody should feel obligated to participate aloud, if you're more comfortable listening. We are happy to accommodate participants with all levels of Latin expertise, including those who have never tried Latin or who have forgotten everything they once knew.

If you would like to receive the Zoom meeting link and be added to the mailing list for future links and readings, please contact CMRS Associate Director Leslie Lockett at lockett.20@osu.edu.

2021 Covid Relief Folklore Student Association Award

The Folklore Student Association and Center for Folklore Studies invite eligible undergraduate and graduate students to apply for the 2021 Covid Relief Folklore Student Association Award. The one-time scholarship is designed to support students who consider the discipline of folklore as central to their academic and/or career work and who have been an active member of the folklore community at OSU. Students need not have officially declared their enrollment in the Folklore GIS or minor but should have previously taken courses related to folklore.

This award supports up to $400* of funding per individual to support folklore scholarship at Ohio State. Funds can be used to support the purchasing of research materials, technology, academic society membership fees, registration fees, or other aids to a student's folklore research or career development. Funds may not be used for travel.

Applicants must submit a completed online application form, which includes providing an unofficial transcript and sharing responses to questions regarding their interaction with the discipline of folklore at OSU and their intended use for the funds.

Award recipients are required to submit a short 500-word report about how the funds were used and the impact the funds had on student professional development.

Submit your application using this GoogleForm.

*Award amount may be lower than $400 depending on the number of qualified applicants.

ASC Graduate Student Success Grants

The Arts & Sciences Center for Career and Professional Success is pleased to announce a new initiative to support graduate students who go into non-academic career pathways. Goals of this newly established Graduate Student Success Grant are to provide professional development support and expose graduate students to meaningful non-academic career pathways that shape their personal and professional growth. Collaborative cross-departmental career initiatives are encouraged. A completed grant application should be submitted no later than April 1, 2021. More information about the grant, including eligibility criteria may be found here. Questions may go to asccareer@osu.edu.
